PROFILE

A dedicated developer skilled in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React.js, Node.js, Express.js, Python, and Bootstrap. Experienced in creating projects like a real-time news web application, a full-stack Netflix clone, and a Python-based ATM management system with real-world functionality. Focused on building responsive and user-friendly applications. I am passionate about innovation and solving intricate problems.

PROJECTS

News-Now

- Developed and successfully deployed a real-time news web application leveraging the News API, featuring categorized sections like Social, Sports, and Entertainment. Ensured a responsive design using React.js

Replicate Netflix

- Created a full-stack Netflix clone using the TMDB database, extracting and integrating real-time movie and TV show data. Built features similar to Netflix, including category browsing and detailed content previews, with a responsive and user-friendly design.

ATM Management System

- I have developed an ATM management system using Python that replicates the functions of an automated teller machine. This system facilitates balance inquiries, cash withdrawals, deposits, and more.

Web Design

- I have created a web design for online food delivery, featuring a navigation bar, a menu chart, services, and contact information.
